While the TAT may not be same for every case due to its varying nature of scope and complexities, it is critical to ensure that these variables are taken into consideration to ascertain TAT accurately and objectively accordingly facilitating informed performance review.
v)	Preparing technical briefs on cases and judgments	The Commission pointed out that considerable amount of time is taken to produce technical briefs on cases and judgments thereby losing its edge on quintessential issues. vi)	Policy on active workforce at all times	While the Commission emphasizes on the enhancement of educational qualifications of the staff to promote qualified, competent and professional cadre in the ACC, it is equally domineering to ensure that it does not affect the delivery of core mandates. Moreover, given that almost 62% of the total staff strength is below 35 years of age, it is critical to encourage individuals to avail further studies at the same time maintain minimum percent of active workforce at all times. Hence, the Commission directed the HRS to develop an internal policy to ensure active workforce in the ACC. While determining the threshold for active workforce, the policy must ensure fairness to both the individuals – availing further studies including EOL as well as providing continuity to institutional mandates. Further, the policy must be practicable considering the age group and seniority in the service vis-à-vis workload to enable successive professional development interventions.
