Update on e-learning course for Parliamentarian and seek way forward- ED, DoPE	Led by Education Division, a team consisting members from National Assembly, National Council and ACC developed the e-learning course content for Parliamentarians from 3-8 May. While the course is based on the course content developed for Civil Servants and Corporate Employee, the course structure is different given there is no position structure as well as it a time-based position. Nonetheless, as directed by the Commission, the same standard has been maintained. Moving forward, the Division proposed to apprise Speaker and Chairperson of National Assembly and Council respectively to roll out the course for the next Parliamentarians during their induction programs. Towards this, Commission gave direction as follows: • To use text and case scenarios relevant to the Parliamentarian. • Since the summer session is staring from 4 June (tentatively), directed to write to Speaker and Chairperson of National Assembly and Council respectively after the summer session. However, immediately sent an acknowledgment letter to Speaker and Chairperson for sending their staff to develop the content. Indicate in letter the proposal to apprise on the course after the summer sessions. • As for rolling out of the course, decided that the course will be piloted to current serving Parliamentarians for further improvement. • While the course cannot be made mandatory for the Parliamentarians, directed Division to coordinate with Election Commission of Bhutan and explore possibility to include the roll out program during their seminar/programs for potential candidate. As well possibility to include the case scenarios in their question bank.
