2.	Present Usage of ACC's Survey Data and Journal publication – EAD With the objective to strengthen literature and knowledge repository on corruption and anti-corruption, enhance awareness on corruption issues and anti-corruption measures and promote research culture at the organizational level, the EAD has developed guideline on the journal publication. The draft Guideline has been presented to the Commission on 2 March 2022, HRC on the 9 March, 2022, Guidelines Review Committee on 15 April, 2022 and shared with all staff on 6 January 2023 for comments and suggestions. Based on the directions, recommendations and suggestions received, the Guideline has been accordingly improved, the latest version being the 'Usage of ACC's Survey Data & Journal Publication Guideline' which was presented to the Commission for endorsement. (The presentation slides is attached as Annex I)	The Commission endorsed the Guideline with specific directions as follows: • To keep it open whether or not to use the office time for working on the articles. To this effect, the supervisor concerned may seek the approval of the Commission whether or not to include the activity in the Individual Work Plan. • To keep it open whether or not the agency can provide financial assistance for the cost entailed during the process of the publication. Thus, directed to include a clause where the Commission may decide whether or not to provide financial assistance based on the significance and objectivity of the study to the agency and availability of the fund. • To include the clause to ensure that the co-authors from other organizations are duly vetted by the Commission. • To include a clause in tandem with the Model Public Service Code of Conduct as a safeguard to ensure that the individuals who have accessed the data don't abuse/misuse it for any other purpose than the one permitted by the Guideline. This is also to ensure that the individual don't misuse the data after they separate from the agency. • To present the Guideline during the ninth Quarterly Staff Meeting.
3.	Update on the Mid-Year Review of Budget for the FY 2022-2023 and the clustering of finance services – AFS The Sr. Finance Officer (FO) presented the financial achievement of the ACC as of 31 December 2022 with reference to the Mid-Year Review of Budget for the FY 2022-	The Commission noted the financial achievement of the agency. Regarding the clustering of the finance services, while the Commission acknowledged that such mechanism will help in enhancing accountability in the

	2023. In addition, the Sr. FO also presented on the rollout of cluster finance services for the Autonomous agencies in Thimphu and the issues discussed by the Finance Committee thereof. (The presentation slides attached as Annex II) Further, given that the Annual Maintenance Contract (AMC) for the elevator was already due for renewal, the Sr. Admin. Officer apprised that it is malfunctioning and sought Commission's direction.	system, the Commission directed to write to the Ministry of Finance communicating following practical challenges and matters that need to be addressed and considered as discussed by the Finance Committee: • Given that the Finance Officer of the agency will be transferred to the cluster office, there will be no technically competent personnel to take the role of a member secretary of the Finance Committee. • Considering the nature of the ACC's mandate, there is a need to maintain confidentiality in certain aspect of payments. • There is no Adm. Assistant under the Secretariat Services to handle the works related to clustering of finance services. • The Finance Section in the Head Office is already catering the services to three Regional Offices. • Currently, the Finance Officer provides periodic technical advice and update to the management on the financial matters. To this, the timely in-person consultation with the Finance Officer may have to be made possible even under the proposed modality. • Given that the CFS has to cater its services to 14 autonomous agencies, the expeditious delivery of services may be compromised which may necessitate a standard Turn Around Time for the delivery of services. • Lack of heavy duty scanner. Regarding the renewal of the AMC for the elevator, the Commission directed to keep
